This desk pyramid is a wonderful resource especially for homeschoolers or children in the classroom.

It has been designed to give children more independence when spelling and/or writing as it allows them to look up sounds and sound spellings themselves.

Many sounds in our language can be spelt in different ways. The pyramid groups all of the most common spelling alternatives together for each sound.

As well as listing sounds it also lists some common words (many of which are irregularly spelt) such as: said, pull, put, do, to, the, two etc. These are printed onto the base of the pyramid.

The pyramid has been made as compact as possible to fit comfortably on a desk. Its dimensions are 15.5cm high with a base of 13cm by 13cm.

A pyramid is available for the NZ, British and American accents.
